TWO MINUTE TRAINING

SUBJECT: 'Twas the Night before Christmas - The Twenty-Sixth Annual Edition

'Twas the night before Christmas, when throughout the site,
No shipments were moving, no rad fuel this night.
The Waste Reps were nestled, all snug in their beds,
While visions of waste codes, danced in their heads.

It's Christmas again, so I must compose,
A poem on the regs, with rhymes and no prose.
I sat in my office, my thoughts all but stalled,
Struggling for a topic, that won't be recalled.

When outside my office, there arose such a clatter,
I sprang from my chair, to see what was the matter.
Away to the doorway, I hid near the wall,
Then out of my office, I peered down the hall.

Two men were approaching; one in escort,
The other in tow, the other quite short.
The escort wore black, like Hanford Patrol,
The other wore red, like an elf, or a troll.

The one dressed in red, was lively and quick,
I knew right away that it must be St. Nick.
With his Hanford escort, I just had to know,
"Where are your reindeer, and the sleigh that they tow?"

He said that with Hanford his clearance is murky,
"To Hanford I'm a foreigner, from Holland or Turkey."
"Hanford impounded, my sleigh and reindeer,
But how they love Christmas, and hence I am here".

Santa gained access, with proper ID,
He took a good picture, he's known for his glee.
For years I have answered, questions on laws,
But this time is different, I told Santa Claus.

I told him the struggles, of creating a story,
Based on regulations, in a Christmas allegory.
"I feel I've exhausted, the good stories and more,
So next year I plan, to release an encore!"

Then Hanford Patrol, took Santa away,
To where they impounded, his reindeer and sleigh.
He sprang to his sleigh, quite eager to leave.
He had work to do, on this cold Christmas Eve.

With clearance from Hanford the sleigh did ascend,
And away Santa flew, like leaves in the wind.
And I heard him exclaim, as he flew out of sight,
"Happy Holidays to All, And To All a Goodnight!"
